The Estate

Rene Gonthiez and his family own approximately 3 hectares, on an elevated slope half way between the towns of Prissé, and Davaye. The unique Limestone soil, that seems as if it made its way down from the Côte d'Or in Burgundy, is perfect for growing Chardonnay grapes. The large rocks in between the rows of vines keep the vineyards warm, well after the sun sets. Saint-Véran, is a Burgundy white with a lot of character, and power, full and rich on the finish.

Wine Making

Cold maceration on the skins for approximately 4 days, and then a short fermentation period, under controlled temperature, with some light battonage (stirring of the lies). 100% Malolactic, and held in stainless-steel tanks until bottled on a mobile bottling line in the Village of Prisse.

Tasting Notes

Greenish, gold in color, a nose of apricot and citrus, with a round, middle, and savory rich finish.
