

Paolo Manzone
Barolo 'Meriamè' 2019

93 Points

“Vanilla, face powder, blood orange and sweet violet are accompanied by a bit of sweetness on the nose. The palate is firm and relaxing, even a bit modern with a softer style — possibly from the tonneaux used here as well as large oak casks — but with extracted tannins; a bit gallic on the finish.”

Decanter

Paolo Manzone
Barolo 'Meriamè' 2019

93 Points

“Vanilla, face powder, blood orange and sweet violet are accompanied by a bit of sweetness on the nose. The palate is firm and relaxing, even a bit modern with a softer style — possibly from the tonneaux used here as well as large oak casks — but with extracted tannins; a bit gallic on the finish.”

Decanter

Paolo Manzone
Barolo 'Meriamè' 2019

93 Points

“Vanilla, face powder, blood orange and sweet violet are accompanied by a bit of sweetness on the nose. The palate is firm and relaxing, even a bit modern with a softer style — possibly from the tonneaux used here as well as large oak casks — but with extracted tannins; a bit gallic on the finish.”

Decanter

Paolo Manzone
Barolo 'Meriamè' 2019

93 Points

“Vanilla, face powder, blood orange and sweet violet are accompanied by a bit of sweetness on the nose. The palate is firm and relaxing, even a bit modern with a softer style — possibly from the tonneaux used here as well as large oak casks — but with extracted tannins; a bit gallic on the finish.”

Decanter

Paolo Manzone
Barolo 'Meriamè' 2019

93 Points

“Vanilla, face powder, blood orange and sweet violet are accompanied by a bit of sweetness on the nose. The palate is firm and relaxing, even a bit modern with a softer style — possibly from the tonneaux used here as well as large oak casks — but with extracted tannins; a bit gallic on the finish.”

Decanter

Paolo Manzone
Barolo 'Meriamè' 2019

93 Points

“Vanilla, face powder, blood orange and sweet violet are accompanied by a bit of sweetness on the nose. The palate is firm and relaxing, even a bit modern with a softer style — possibly from the tonneaux used here as well as large oak casks — but with extracted tannins; a bit gallic on the finish.”

Decanter