The Estate

Sometimes the best value in Burgundy comes from the fruit that lies outside of the well known appellations. They may be on the other side of the road and just outside of more well known villages. Here we have a Burgundian native winemaker that knows great farmers in many of the villages that make up the Burgundy region. This gives him the inside track on grape sources grown sustainably with respect for nature and working to grow the best possible grapes. These create wine of impeccable style, finesse and grace that we were looking for. Respect for terroir and restraint in manipulation in the winery are the hallmarks of this estate.

Wine Making

This is made from 100% Chardonnay that has been hand harvested and hand sorted. After being destemmed and gently pressed the juice is fermented at very cool temperatures in stainless-steel tanks. After a brief maceration on the skins—which increases the complexity and enhances the structure of the wine—it is racked and allowed to undergo a slow fermentation on the fine lees. The wine is aged and bottled for further refinement and then packaged and released.

Tasting Notes

Crisp with notes of green apple and citrus fruit which enhance the pure Chardonnay varietal character. It is crisp, well balanced and a dry finish that lingers on the palate, making it a perfect match for seafood, shellfish, and poultry dishes.
